ORIGIN

1. Georgiev told Nadolny on 25 April 1947 that the Moscow Conference results had surprised Soviet senior officers in the Red Army and the SMA. He assured him that the USSR was not to blame for the failure of the Conference and that the Germans must so understand.

2. Georgiev stated that the encirclement of the USSR from the Pacific to Finland already had begun; that Japan would undoubtedly get a mild peace; China would be dominated by the United States; and that the Balkans were coming into the American sphere.

3. Molotov was interested in Nadolny's memorandum. Georgiev stated that Nadolny's Moscow visit will be essential after his preparation of further memoranda on the following subjects: Reparations, The MVD in Germany, Land Reform, Economic Questions, Eastern Frontiers. All of these subjects are to be discussed with Molotov and Stalin during Nadolny's Moscow visit.
